

Momindum helps universities, corporations and government agencies manage their online communication and learning needs efficiently and cost effectively. Our best-of-breed Rich Media Software Solutions make classes available anywhere, anytime, improve the learning process, ensure learners' active participation and greatly eases interaction between the learners and the trainers inside and outside the classroom.

Momindum is an innovative and fast growing company on a highly demanding market. In order to sustain its 3 digits growth, Momindum is looking for high potential sales and marketing candidates in its three main offices, San Francisco, Boston and Paris, France.

Job Characteristics

Title: Student Job
Location: San Francisco, at your home and in our premises
Start date: Immediate
Position: Full time or not for at least 3 months
Salary: $ 8 dollar per hour + success fees
Travel: no travel

Job Description

You will be in charge to create a client database with name, phone number and email of potentials customers.
You will for that proactively research name on the web, find their details and validate their position.

Qualification and Skills

Good knowledge of how to make efficient research on the web
Good knowledge of how to use social networks as face book, linked In, etc
Hard worker and team player
Interpersonal and communication skills

Interested candidates may please send in their resumes at the earliest for immediate consideration at cannonne@momindum.com