Department of Information Systems
San Francisco State University

JOB ANNOUNCEMENT

The Information Systems Department at SFSU is looking for part-time lecturers for the following courses:

1. ISYS 350: Building Business Applications
   http://courses.sfsu.edu/courses/32954
   Course description: Development of a multi-tier e-business application using tools such as C#, JavaScript and Java JSP. Design and implement a business rule tier, presentation tier, and data access tier in order to rapidly deliver innovative and extensible business solutions.

2. ISYS 475: Building Web Applications with Open Source Software
   http://courses.sfsu.edu/courses/32958
   Course description: Concepts, techniques, and tools to develop Internet-oriented business application systems using open source technologies such as PHP, Node.js.

3. ISYS 573: Building Mobile Business Applications
   http://courses.sfsu.edu/courses/30336
   Course description: Design and develop applications for mobile devices including tablet computers and smartphones. Building business applications for mobile devices that interfaces with backend system.

Interested applicants should contact Professor David Chao for more information at: dchao@sfsu.edu.